

Early Islamic Civilisation

Year 6 Summer 1

Writing:	Could you create a information poster about the Silk Road?	Could you write two contrasting 'day in a life of' diary entries from the perspectives of a civilian and a Caliph?	Could you write your own tale inspired by Arabian Nights? E.g. Aladdin
Humanities:	Could you research and compare the ancient city of Bagdad with another ancient city of your choice?	Could you research an early Islamic scholar's findings? E.g. Abu al-Qasim al-Zahrawi, "father of modern surgery" / Ibn Al-Nafis, "father of circulatory physiology and anatomy.	Could you create and document a meal inspired by flavours and food available in early Islamic households?
Arts:	Could you explore and recreate an early Islamic invention? E.g. waterwheels/ aqueducts	Could you research the different types of clothing worn and design your own?	Could you study significant buildings and homes in the early Islamic civilisation and re-create your own?